This is an office action for serial number 10/528,087.

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claim 12 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Eldon III.

Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eldon, III 4,328,943. Eldon discloses a stand with a column (44), a base section (bottom of column that is conventional on a chair), head unit (10), pivot element (near 10d), a horizontal pivot shaft (16), receiver element/flange-shaped fastening element (flat upper surface of 10), a pin (12), a vertical gap (space between arms of 12), telescopically profiled section (conventional gas cylinder are known to be telescopic). Eldon discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the pin being a male member and the top of the column a female member and the wherein sections of inner contours of the outer profiled section are matched in cross section to outer contours of inner profiled sections that have different cross-sectional shapes. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Eldon to have made the pin being a male member and the top of the column a female member since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have made to have sections of inner contours of the outer profiled section are matched in cross section to outer contours of inner profiled sections that have different cross-sectional shapes , since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the shape of a component. A change in shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art since the applicant has not shown how the chosen shape is critical.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 4-9, and 11 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
